

AUSSIEWOOD

"AUSSIEWOOD" is an empowerment concept to help the mental health, disability, and isolation issues of Senior Aged - integrated with the younger generation. This is an Australian charity fundraising event helping disadvantaged Seniors, Children and Families.

Public notice to all interested Senior Australians

We believe Australia is of age to announce it has its own "A.....wood" identity. Following on from HOLLYWOOD, BOLLYWOOD, and now AUSSIEWOOD - this is a great and exciting step for our own Seniors Arts identity, and by sharing Australian lifestyle to the Free World. We believe Crime Hurts Seniors, children, family and all FREE World Nations.

"AUSSIEWOOD " is proudly a tribute to all Australians who have participated in that very competitive industry of the Arts, and to acknowledge those performers who have passed on, and respecting those who lost their lives whilst enjoying their learned skills. To my knowledge the youngest Australian celebrity to lose a life while in live performance was Kathy Wayne, an Australian 18 year old female entertainer shot dead on stage at Chu Lai, during the Vietnam War. Her unfortunate death proves to us about the fragility of life – As Senior mentors we have a responsibility to help educate future generations and to build this program in her honor, and in memory of, to mention a few, the late Ricky May, Bobby Limb, Prince Tui Teka, Johnny O'keefe, Yvonne Barrett, Heath Ledger, Peter Allen – and the list goes on.

As Senior Aged we are introducing "AUSSIEWOOD" as a viable red carpet option to take place on Australian soil. The Australian entertainment industry has and still is producing celebrities in movies, television, science, sporting, and real life heroism while serving in other countries wars. Amongst these achievers there are many wonderful talents that do not reach the Hollywood red carpet status. These Senior achievers can be nominated to walk the red carpet and take a bow for their service to community. Each nominated participant from different States are invited to prepare a specific promotional address that will help their regional tourism. As there has been a definite drop off in tourism in Queensland and other States. As Seniors we must help Australia's tourism market and this project can do that on Australian soil and facing the World market.

International

We will encourage a vocal quest challenge with New Zealand for the prestigious "ANZAC Entertainers" trophy as acknowledgement of Entertainers who have performed for our ANZAC troops in various war zones around the World. A special invitation will be extended to retired International Senior Aged entertainers in other FREE World countries, and talented Senior achievers in other Australian States. This activity is proposed to be the biggest Seniors party to be held on Australian soil. The place where new found friendships will be made and past relationships rekindled.

There is a question I ask all Senior Australians....."Do you believe Australians can take the "AUSSIEWOOD" red carpet process to the HOLLYWOOD, BOLLYWOOD level"? YES/NO

If your answer is yes please join our "AUSSIEWOOD " network to help get it off the ground for the benefit of dedicated Australian history and future generations. If your answer is no - do come and enjoy the show.

Senior star performers from other States are invited to join us for the launch of AUSSIEWOOD, Thursday 12th March 2009. Venue arrangements are in the process to be confirmed. As World Patron for www.crimehurts.org I am honored to be associated with an event that will enhance Seniors living lifestyle and supporting the younger generation.

Contestants from other States

At present Brisbane Council, Hervey Bay Council for the Arts Inc, and other Australia State regions are conducting their Senior Talent search for 2008. We have a proposal to these Regional areas. You may sponsor your winner and runner up to the "Aussiewood" launch 12th March 2009 where they will walk the red carpet and go direct into the launch showcase representing your Regional Arts area. They will also be guest speakers on Senior radio programs.
